Asaf Dok Criminal Lawyer - About Us

The Asaf Dok Law Firm offers our clients a comprehensive range of services in fields of criminal law, military law and traffic laws. The firm is comprised of accomplished individuals who are characterized by diligence and pioneering thought processes in the various fields of law. The firm provides its services with total discretion 24/7 nationwide

ASAF DOK CRIMINAL ATTORNEY

Adv. Asaf Dok, the founder and owner of the firm, formerly of the Ministry of Justice, holds degrees in law, politics and governance cum laude. He has served as a criminal defence attorney in cases which had great impact with the public and has accumulated a reputation and practical experience in handling both simple and complex cases.

The firm as a principle does not represent professional criminals and criminal organizations, and therefore is engaged solely and only in representation of normative suspects and defendants, for whom it is their first entanglement with the enforcement and legal authorities, such as: business people, public officers, VIPs, physicians, security system personnel, hi-tech personnel, attorneys, accountants, salaried employees and other members of liberal professions. Furthermore, in the field of organized crime our firm represents state witnesses only in the most serious and complex affairs in the Israeli world of crime and supports them throughout the entire criminal process.

Our firm supports every client from the beginning of the proceedings in their matter, while providing forward facing analysis of the situation and examination of the optimal methods of action for administration of the risks in the case. The firm is committed to providing the clients with a complete picture as to their situation including the range of possibilities and risks before them. The firm's team of attorneys reviews the relevant legal issues at the basis of the case professionally, thoroughly and creatively and transfers to the client a reasoned legal expert opinion which details the optimal line of defence for him. Analysis of the case, development of the line of defence, collection of documents and testimonies and of course the quality of the legal representation - all these seal fates in the courts.

MY CREED

The principles that guide the method of handling each of the firm's cases are an uncompromising battle to safeguard and defend the client's rights and interests, pioneering thought processes, and a continual effort to satisfy the special needs of each client.

It is not sufficient to know the law inside out but rather it is essential to be absolutely cognizant of the legal system, in order to understand how to plan the appropriate steps for the client that shall help in securing the desired target. The firm's staff is well trained in "thinking outside the box" and finding original solutions, all this together with the client and with full transparency to him.

Our staff, who also include former members of various attorney offices and enforcement authorities, work professionally and with dedication in order to protect your rights. The firm has a team of talented and unique individuals who are constantly working for our clients without fear and faithfully, with an adamant, continual and uncompromising fight of the various mechanisms until we conquer the target to the client's satisfaction.

The experience and the professional knowhow that our attorneys have accumulated with enforcement and prosecution entities is worth its weight in gold and enables them to understand how the other party thinks and how to consider the issues as far as we are concerned and thereby to consolidate a solid and optimal legal strategy for each and every case. We know exactly which constraints the prosecutor is facing, how he examines evidence, which principles are guiding him and the correct way to tilt the legal proceedings in favour of the client while adhering to the rules and the laws.

Each of the attorneys in the firm aspires to achieve the best results in every case for the client, while understanding that satisfied clients are the principal engine for continued establishment and growth of the firm's reputation in the legal arena.
